INFORMATION MEETING

Urban Water Management Plan

Thursday, May 12, 2005
6-8 p.m.

Municipal Water District of Orange County
10500 Ellis Ave., Fountain Valley

The Municipal Water District of Orange County, the county's wholesale imported water and resource-planning agency, along with the water retailers and cities it serves, is beginning an update of the area's Regional Urban Water Management Plan.

The result of this effort, which is done in consultation with other Orange County water management agencies and the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California, will help better coordinate land-use and water planning, and helps further ensure water utilities receive a reliable supply of water to meet current and future demand.

In addition to imported water from Northern California and the Colorado River, the Plan will review and assess potential supplies from local groundwater, recycled water, water transfers, seawater desalination, and the water saved as a result of best management practices and water use efficiency.

We encourage all stakeholders and the general public to participate in the planning process. Please join us for the Community Information Meeting.

PROGRESS REPORT

Urban Water Management Plan

Thursday, August 18, 2005
6 PM to 8 PM

Municipal Water District of Orange County
10500 Ellis Ave., Fountain Valley

The Municipal Water District of Orange County, the county's wholesale imported water and resource-planning agency, invites you to attend a progress report on the update of the area's Regional Urban Water Management Plan.

Staff will present preliminary water-demand and supply projections through 2030, and review potential supplies from other sources, including recycled water, seawater desalination, water transfers, and water use efficiency.

We encourage all stakeholders and the general public to give us their comments, questions and input as we update the Plan.

The Municipal Water District, in consultation with other Orange County water management agencies and the Metropolitan Water District, updates the Regional Urban Water Management Plan every five years to further ensure a reliable supply of water to meet current and future demand.

Dear Stakeholder:

Every five years, the Municipal Water District of Orange County (MWDOC) and the water retailers and cities it serves update the Regional Urban Water Management Plan. This extensive effort, which includes virtually all of Orange County, is completed in consultation with other water management agencies and the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California. The plan ensures coordination between land-use and water planning, and helps to further ensure a reliable supply of high-quality water to meet Orange County's current and future demand.

We are now beginning the update of our fifth Regional Urban Water Management Plan and want to encourage all stakeholders and the general public to participate in the planning process.

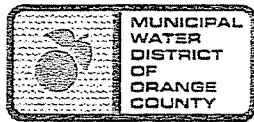

To provide you with an analysis of the plan, which includes a review and assessment of potential supplies from Northern California and the Colorado River, local groundwater, recycled water, water transfers, seawater desalination, and the water saved as a result of best management practices and water use efficiency, please join us for a

August 3, 2005

Dear Stakeholder:

I want to personally invite you to our second Community Information Meeting on the update of the Regional Urban Water Management Plan. The meeting will be held:

6-8 p.m.

Thursday, August 18, 2005

at

Municipal Water District of Orange County
10500 Ellis Avenue, Fountain Valley

Staff will present preliminary water-demand and supply projections through 2030, and review potential supplies from other sources, including recycled water, seawater desalination, water transfers, and water use efficiency. This meeting is also an opportunity for you to share your comments and suggestions as we continue the planning process.

As you know, the Municipal Water District of Orange County (MWDOC) and the water agencies and cities it serves update the Regional Urban Water Management Plan every five years. This extensive effort, which includes all of Orange County—except the cities of Fullerton, Anaheim, and Santa Ana—is completed in consultation with other water management agencies and the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California. The plan ensures coordination between land-use and water planning, and helps further ensure a reliable supply of high-quality water to meet Orange County's current and future demand.

MWDOC will submit its Regional Urban Water Management Plan to the California Department of Water Resources in December. Copies of the draft document will be available for your view in October. We will also hold a public meeting sometime that month and will inform you of the date and time.

For additional information about the Plan or the Community Information Meeting, please contact Michelle Tuchman, Director of Public Affairs, at (714) 593-5014. We look forward to seeing you on the 18th.

Sincerely,

Kevin P. Hunt
General Manager
